STUDY IN TURKEY

In Turkey, there's a mandatory education system of 12 years. Students go through it in three phases; primary, secondary and high school, each of which lasts four years. Turkey stands out with its qualified education and achievements in preschool, mandatory and higher education levels.

The overall structure of the Turkish education system can be summarized as:

Preschool education: Optional education for children between the ages of 3 and 5 who have not reached compulsory primary education age. There are many adept preschool educational institutions in Turkey.

Primary school: This is the foundational education that children of 6-10 years old are required to receive (grades 1-2-3-4). Primary education is offered free of charge in public schools.

Secondary school: Further education of children in the age group of 10-14 years. Also offered free of charge in public schools. By the end of secondary school, students are informed about their options such as career paths, high school and technical school choices and other general knowledge required for a proper education.

Secondary education: High school education for children aged 14-17 years, offered free of tuition by public schools. At this stage, in addition to preparing students to higher education, professional and technical know-how is also emphasized through various programs.

Higher Education: Students who graduate from high school can enrol in higher education institutions compatible with the three-stage Bologna system. Many public and foundation universities provide world-class education in Turkey.

Why should I study in Turkey?

Quality Education

Turkey is the second country in the world in terms of access to higher education with 94.2% schooling rate. With a Bologna report rating of 5 out of 5, Turkey is one of the countries that has implemented the Bologna Process in Europe best. This means that your diploma from a university in Turkey will be recognized in all European countries. Students are encouraged to benefit from different universities and resources through student exchange programs such as Erasmus for abroad and Mevlana and Farabi for domestic studies.

Diverse Learning Opportunities

There are 207 universities in Turkey, offering about 60,000 different programs. With close to 8 million students, Turkey has the highest number of students in the European Higher Education Area. In Istanbul alone, there are 60 universities and 711 vocational and technical schools. With so much variety and option, finding an academic program or faculty that suit your goals should be relatively straightforward. It's worth saying whichever university you chose, you'll find a campus life with modern technologies and a sophisticated teaching environment.

Student Friendly Social Life

Turkey has at least one university in each city offering student-only social clubs, cultural events and sports teams. The cafes, restaurants, where students socialize, are usually bustling 24 hours a day and provide specific events for students. City residents are used to students and tend to be very hospitable, making it very easy for visitors to feel at home in no time. At the same time, as a student in Turkey, you will be able to benefit from discounted prices on everything from accommodation to eating, entertainment and transportation.

Multicultural Background

Turkey, which has been home to many civilizations for thousands of years, is a cultural mosaic. This multicultural fabric brings two unique traits. The first of these is the tolerant environment where every belief and culture can live comfortably and respectfully. The second is the historical, cultural structures and splendid museums that you can find all over the country.
