HEALTHCARE IN TURKEY

Turkey is a centre of wellness with state of the art facilities offering a speedy and equally accessible system. Universal social security as a right is supported throughout the country with private and government hospitals extending services to people from all around the world.

The continually increasing number of medical tourists and ex-pat retirees is a sign of Turkey's competence in healthcare.

Adept Healthcare Workers

Due to cultural affinity and respect along with extensive opportunities, the best and the brightest students tend to choose medical schools over other faculties. This adds to the quality of medical education and physicians capabilities in Turkey. Highly qualified medical education and workers play a pivotal role in making Turkey a leading name in healthcare globally.

Extraordinary Location

Turkey is in a unique location within a 4-hour flight distance for 1.5 billion people on three different continents. Turkey's efficient and accessible health system has made it a leading star in health tourism, attracting an increasing number of medical tourists every year. This high demand in the field of health also strengthens the expertise in medicine, the use of new technologies, the opening of new hospitals. Thus, ensuring the accessibility of healthcare to everyone.

Affordable Fees and Healthcare Tourism

Competitive wage levels are another factor that has made Turkey, a global name in healthcare and related technologies. From general to cosmetic surgeries, healthcare services in Turkey are much more accessible than they are in European countries.

To compare a few numbers;

Hip prosthesis surgery:

The average cost in the United States is approx. 40,000 USD
