LIFE IN TÜRKİYE

With a qualified education system, easily accessible advanced healthcare, comfortable living standards, and historical and natural riches, Turkey is one of the most peaceful and beautiful countries where you can live together in your family.

Why should I live in Turkey?

Affordable Cost of Living

The monthly cost of living is much cheaper in Turkey than in most European countries. According to the purchasing power parity results of the final consumption expenditure announced by the Turkish Statistical Institute for 2019, Turkey is the cheapest country in Europe to live in.

Stellar Education

With a compulsory k12 education system and an increasing number of qualified schools, Turkey offers excellent education options. Universities providing world-class education and undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral programs are also available for those who want to pursue advanced academics. In Istanbul alone, there are 60 universities and 711 vocational and technical schools.

Strong Healthcare System

Healthcare services in Turkey are cheaper, faster, and easily accessible than most European countries and are above world standards. With technologically advanced, high capacity hospitals, and comprehensive insurance options, Turkey has become a role model in healthcare. It has been acknowledged as one of the countries that managed the coronavirus process best by rapidly adopting the proper measures. There are both state hospitals and private hospitals where you can get services in Turkey. Additionally, Turkey is a rising hub of health tourism. Offering competitively priced, high quality advanced healthcare services such as surgery, aesthetics, hair transplantation, IVF, and many more medical options.

Historic Texture and Cultural Riches

These lands have been a cradle of civilization to countless empires throughout history. You can experience the coexistence of different cultures not just in Istanbul but throughout Anatolia, which is evident in the cultural texture and local heritage passed on in artefacts and great works.

Fast Transportation Network

With 56 airports, Turkey is a country where you can travel to many cities in less than an hour. There are direct flights from Istanbul to 250 different cities around the world. High-speed train and advanced road network are frequently preferred options for domestic transportation.

Climate and Tourism

Surrounded by seas on three sides, Turkey is located at the transit points of climates. Therefore many seasonal activities can be done all year round in different regions. While you can ski in one part of the county, you can enjoy a day at the beach in another. This unique climate also offers sunny weather to those living in Turkey on average 272 days a year. With both the impact of the environment and its prime touristic areas, seas, beaches, historical and natural riches, Turkey is an important centre that attracts tourists for four seasons.

Daily Life and Relations

In almost all cities in Turkey, you can find something to do at all hours, especially in its most populated city, Istanbul. All over the country; there is a developed cinema and theatre interest, culture and art activities, festivals, restaurants where you can try fine Turkish cuisine, historical and cultural tours. Since it is a country where different civilizations and cultures have lived together for many years; people in Turkey are very welcoming and friendly. Turkey is a tolerant country where people of all cultures and beliefs can live comfortably and freely.
